DIX MAKES FIRST SPEECH IN GOTHAM

Democratic Nominee In New York Endorsed by Mayor Gaynor Last Night.

A BITTER ATTACK ON TEDDY

Campaign Has Reached Flood Tide Throughout the State—Brands Statements of Roosevelt as Falsehoods.

New York, Nov. 2.—The Democratic State campaign here reached flood-tide tonight at a meeting in Carnegie Hall, where John A. Dix, the nominee for Governor, made his first public address in the city. The meeting also served as the occasion for Mayor Gaynor's long expected formal announcement of his support of the ticket.

The Mayor's voice still being weak, this came in the form of a letter to the chairman of the meeting. This really was held under the auspices of the Independent Business Men's League, and Herman Ridder, president of that organization, presided.

Mr. Dix devoted the greater part of a 3,000 word speech to a denunciation of Theodore Roosevelt. He charged the former President with wilful falsehood in repeating the accusation for which Mr. Dix in his Buffalo speech demanded an apology. He declared that Col. Roosevelt "because of what he deems to be his political necessity of the hour, struck hands and made political alliance with William R. Hearst, whom four years ago Roosevelt had "publicly branded as responsible for the assassin's bullet which made him President."

Leaving the subject of Roosevelt the candidate returned to charges of Republican extravagance. He promised that a Democratic administration would reduce taxation and once more make it possible for the "average man" to save enough for a rainy day. He denounced the Republican tariff policy and declared himself for a downward revision of the tariff.

"This campaign," said Mr. Dix, like so many in the past, involved questions of policy and expenditure of reform and retrenchment and the other questions which necessarily have to do with carrying on the well ordered business of government.

"Such questions would have been settled in the usual way by appeals to reason and to experience and by that application to common sense judgment, which is so distinguishing an attribute of the average American. But this was not to be. Into the center of the stage there has been hurled—by the inordinate vanity, the dangerous ambition, the reckless conduct of a man who has become the apostle of tumult and the protagonist of misrepresentation—the momentous question of whether or not our very Republican institutions should survive, or under the assaults of the agitator and the egotist should go down to destruction as have other great countries under similar assaults.

"Fortunately for our country, the battleground chosen for this fight was that which combined patriotism, intelligence and public spirit in their highest form, and the decisive defeat which lies before this creators of unrest, this instigator of panic and this destructive agent of business depression will not alone retire him to a sphere of well-earned and unenvied seclusion, but will serve for many years to come as a signal warning to all other men who may let their ambition blind their judgment to the fact that there is and must remain a government of the people and by the people.

"Never before have we, in our history, had so much occasion to blush for the conduct of a man who had been the first citizen of our country, and no greater and more striking difference could be found in our history, between the last Republican President and the illustrious men who preceded him in office, than is found by their conduct after they had retired from the great office which they had held.

"Look for a moment upon the man who is now rushing up and down the State shouting, threatening, abusing and wilfully misrepresenting—bringing contempt and ridicule upon the great office he has held, and avoiding the discussion of all the real issues of this campaign and then upon his great predecessors who never forgot that they owed to their countrymen the duty of bearing themselves always with dignity and with honor.

"Look on the one hand at the man who typifies assaults upon courts, the bulwarks of our liberties, and upon the freedom of the press than which no right is more sacred to freedom and then upon the men whose every thought and act taught respect and regard for lawfully constituted authority and say with which of these men and their policies you would prefer to stand.

"I say to you, my fellow citizens of New York, that when the shouting and the tumult shall have died away, when the verdict of impartial history shall have been rendered, I would ten thousand times prefer to stand with the plain strong men who shed lustre upon their country, rather than with

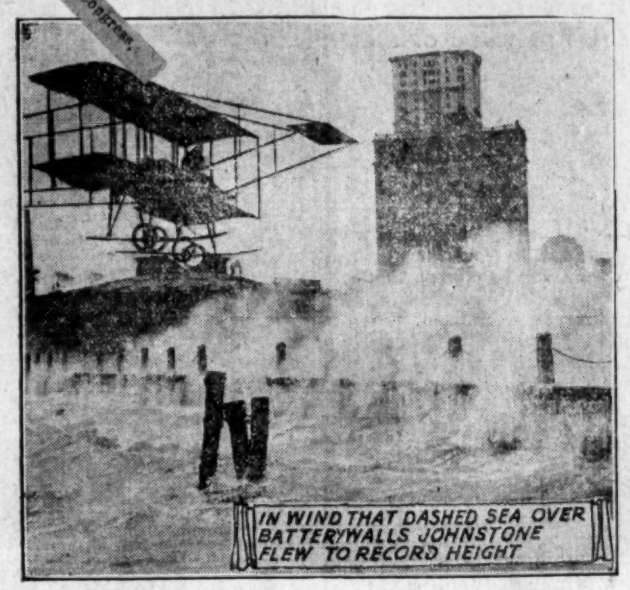
Remarkable Flying Feat in New York



New York, Nov. 2,—Think of going up in an aeroplane in the face of wind that drove the waves high over the Battery park sea wall in New York City, that snapped telegraph poles in two and that drove clouds of dust in a wild, swirling storm, and you have a slight idea of the storm Ralph Johnstone faced when he recently soared over 9,000 feet in the air.

TEDDY SPENDS DAY OF QUIET

Turns From Politics to Missions—Addressed Gathering of Methodist Bishops in Baltimore—Tells of Africa.

Baltimore, Nov. 2.—Turning for a few hours from the stress of politics to the calmer field of missions, former President Roosevelt was introduced here tonight to a gathering of Methodist bishops and laymen as "Theodore-Gift-of-God-Roosevelt."

This presentation was delivered by Bishop Henry W. Warren, of Denver, at the annual meeting of the general committee of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Methodist Episcopal church, the first regular session of which is to take place tomorrow. The hall was crowded to the doors.

"Although I am a member of the Dutch Reformed church," said Col. Roosevelt, "I always feel at home among the Methodists; and there are times when my opponents say that I talk like a Methodist lay preacher. I only wish that I could talk half so effectively."

The colonel told of his visits to missions in Africa during his hunting trip, and of the work which is being done there. The work, he said, was progressing admirably, although it was being carried on in many cases under difficult circumstances. He asserted that those who decried the efforts of the missionairies failed to appreciate what was being done.

Bishop Earl Cranston, of Washington, and Dr. Eugene A. Noble, president of Goucher College, an institution for women, met the colonel when he arrived from New York. They accompanied him to Goucher College, where he addressed the students and faculty.

He told the young women that a college education was no passport to an easy life, and that they ought to study hard and "stick to it."

As soon as he finished his speech, Col. Roosevelt went to his train and started westward. He is to spend tomorrow on the train reaching Chicago at 8:45 P. M., and leaving there at 10 P. M. for Davenport, Ia.

KITCHIN IN BLADEN.

Unfortunately Only Small Crowd Heard Governor at Elizabethtown.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Elizabethtown, N. C., Nov. 2.—Governor W. W. Kitchin spoke here in the Court House today to a small crowd of Bladen citizens. The Governor's speech was one of the strongest political arguments ever delivered in Bladen, and if no converts were added thereby, it would certainly have strengthened those who may have been weak if they had heard it. His explanation of the tariff was so plain, he said, a wayfaring man though a Republican, could understand. He paid his respect to the Gold Dust twins, Butler and Morehead, and urged every Democrat to come out and vote Tuesday and every Republican would, except he were sick or in jail.

President Gives Out Letter of Representative McKinley Predicting Success in Election Next Tuesday.—Gives His Reasons.

Washington, Nov. 2.—President Taft today made public a letter from Representative W. B. McKinley, chairman of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee, in which he takes a roseate view of Republican prospects at next Tuesday's election. Mr. McKinley declares that what some people recognized as a Democratic year in July will turn out to be a Republican year in November. He indicates that in his opinion the Democrats haven't the slightest chance of gaining a majority in the next House.

The making public of the McKinley letter, it is said, will be the last act of the President in the present campaign. It was reported today that Mr. Taft might write a letter on the New York State situation, but no confirmation could be obtained at the White House.

"In your letter to me of August 20, 1910," says Mr. McKinley in his letter, "you state that the question was not what complexion of Republicanism one prefers, but whether it is better for the country to have a Republican party control the legislation for the next two years and further redeem its promises, or to enable a Democratic majority in the House either to interpose a veto to Republican measures or to formulate and pass bills to carry out Democratic principles. Your clear and just analysis of Republican principles and your brief outline of the great work which you administration is committeed was adopted by the Republican Congressional Committee as the slogan of this campaign. The differences within the party which were manifested in the two sessions of the present Congress have been composed on the basis of your letter and a militant and united party is approaching the biennial election with confidence of deserved victory. As you well predicted, the party as a whole is showing itself practical and patriotic in subordinating individual opinion in order to secure real progress.

Following your suggestion it has been the aim of this committee to emphasize the difference in the governmental efficiency and capacity of the Republican and Democratic parties. We have sought to make this a campaign of education, and while in some districts the real issues are obscured by local questions and personal animosities, I am convinced that our literature and our speakers have whole a realization of the fact that Democratic success in the congressional elections this year would be a staggering blow to National prosperity; would impede, if not prevent, the enactment of all useful and progressive legislation and would make legitimate business the plaything of politics for two years."

OCEY SNEAD CASE AGAIN IN COURT

Sanity of Mrs. Caroline B. Martin Now Under Investigation.

BATH TUB MURDER MYSTERY

Dramatic Turn When Aged Woman Sprang Up to Deny Statement of a Witness.—Virginia Wardlaw.—The Witnesses.

Newark, N. J., Nov. 2.—Proceedings begun today to determine the sanity of Mrs. Carolina B. Martin, accused of the murder of her daugater, Ocey Snead, the East Orange "bath tub victim," took a dramatic turn late today when the aged woman jumped from her chair to deny the statement of a witness.

Mrs. Martin's interuption came while Judge Arthur A. Phlegar, of Bristol, Va., a life-long acquaintance of the accused woman, was on the stand. He testified he had received several letters from Mrs. Martin and her sister, Mrs. Mary W. Snead, jointly accused of killing Ocey Snead, in regard to retaining counsel. Mrs. Martin suddenly jumped to her feet shouting in a shrill voice: "Never sent you or anyone else a letter".

The Rev. Albert G. Wardlaw and Mrs. Bessie G. Spindle, the defendant's brother and sister finally quieted her although she struggled to make a further protest.

Mrs. Laura Jones, of Chriansburg, Va., formerly employed as a seamstress by Mrs. Martin described Mrs. Martin's eccentricities. Counsel for the defense contends that she is incompetent. Experts will be put on the stand later to tell of their recent examination of Mrs. Martin.

Mrs. Virginia Wardlaw, the third of the three sisters originaly under indictment for the murder of Ocey Snead, died in the house of detention.

HOPE TO SETTLE BIG STRIKE SOON

Await Consent of Express Company Head to Resort to Arbitration.

A CONFERENCE WITH GAYNOR

Quiet Day in Labor Trouble.—Strike Leaders Believe Platt Will be Won Over.—Looks Bright For Settlement

New York, November 2.—Only the word of Frank H. Platt, president of the United States Express Company, is needed to bring about arbitration of the express strike, according to the claims of the strike leaders tonight.

Through a series of conferences today at the office of Mayor Gaynor, the consent of the strikers to submit their grievances to arbitration was obtained and it is said that the heads of all the companies except Platt are willing to enter upon the settlement of the trouble to a board of arbitration. The strike leaders expressed the hope tonight that by tomorrow Platt would be won over to this programme.

No formal statement was forthcoming when the conference in the Mayor's office adjourned tonight, but Mayor Wittpen, of Jersey City, who had attended the meeting, said: "It looks bright for a settlement."

William H. Ashtor, one of the strike leaders, added:

"The prospects for ending the strike are brigater now, I think, than at any time."

As proposed by the conciliation committee of the National Civic Federation the arbitration board if named, will consist of two men named by the companies, two by the strikers, and two chosen by these arbitrators, with Mayor Gaynor, as chairman.

On board of the express companies a statement was issued tonight stating that a general conference of the executive heads of the concerns had been held to consider the situation and would be resumed tomorrow.

During the day the ranks of the strikers were strengthened by the addition of drivers from several more department stores.

Aid to the strikers were also tendered by the Longshoremens' Union, who sent a committee to the various steamship companies with a notice that the longshoremen will not handle packages brought to the piers by strike-breakers and threatened to strike to enforce their decision.

CONFESSED BURGLARIES.

Man Arrested With Daughter of an Official of Grand Trunk Line.

Baltimore, November 2.—Thomas H. Barnette, alias Kemp, of Toronto, Ont., is held by the police here on the charge of having burglarized a residence in Buffalo, N. Y., September 4th, and held with him is Miss Florence Tomlinson, 18 years old, with whom he eloped. She is said to be the daughter of an official of the Grand Trunk railroad.

Until today Miss Tomlinson believed she had been legally married to Barnette at Niagara Falls N. Y. That this had been a mock marriage developed after Barnette's arrest, when he begged that a minister be sent for to marry him to the girl. She was willing that this be done until Barnett confessed to a number of burglaries. Miss Tomlinson's father has been notified of his daughter's plight. The couple attained notoriety some time ago when, while they were living in Newark, N. J., Miss Tomlison accidentany shot herself with a revolver. Barnette, who is 23 years of age, told the detectives that he made it a rule to wear full dress whenever he had a burglarious expeditions.

On Barnette's person and in the room where he has been living the police found a large quantity of jewelry and other plunder, electric flash lights, skeleton keys and everything else that goes to make up a burglar's kit.

RELEASE COUNTERFEITER.

Estrada Asks United States to Release One of His Lieutenants.

It is explained that Secreest acted under the orders of the revolutionary leaders. The orders were issued prior to the retirement of Madriz and were subsequently cancelled. Notification of the cancellation probably was received by Secreest too late to prevent his coming into conflict with the authorities.

AIRMEN GATHER AT BALTIMORE

Another Big Aviation Meets Starts Today—Famous Fliers Will Participate—Thrilling Exhibition Flights.

Baltimore, Nov. 2.—Exhibition flights excited the interest of a great crowd at the opening of the Baltimore Aviation Meet today. The first aviators to take to the air lines of the new course were Charles F. Willard, the American, and James Radley, of England.

The opening signal bomb was three quarters of an hour late in going aloft, but Willard had taken his Curtiss biplane up before the time set for the opening. He was shortly joined in the air by Radley, who flew in his Bleriot monoplane from the railroad station to Halethorpe.

One of the most interested spectators of the day was Cardinal Gibbons, who reached the grounds in an automobile while the flights were in progress. Governor Austin L. Crothers and his staff and Mayor J. Barry Mahool of this city, were also present.

Owing to the strike of express men in New York, the special train bearing the aeroplanes of most of the aviators was late in arriving here and consequently the transfer of the machines to the aviation field was delayed. Count Jacques de Lesseps, who assembled his monoplane at Halethorpe station and flew to the grounds, did not reach here until after the official close. He made a quick trip. It was exactly two minutes to five when his propeller began to revolve and two minutes thereafter he and his machine were lost in the gathering dusk. Because of the delay and the consequent impossibility of a number of competitors entering the events scheduled for the day, all the flights were in the nature of exhibitions. Willard made five circuits of the mile course in five minutes, 32 seconds. Drexel in an early try for altitude, made 3,000 feet. Later Wiliard in a similar attempt took his Curtiss biplane to a height of 4,500 feet, remaining in the air in his flight for 20 minutes. None of the other fliers made a flight of as great duration. Drexel shortly afterwards in his Bleriot regained the altitude honors of the day with a record of 4,800 feet.

Eugene Ely made some pretty flights. All the aeroplanes regularly entered are now here, as are all the aviators, and tomorrow the regular programme will be contested. In addition to Latham, DeLesseps, Drexel, Radley, Ely, Harmon and Curtiss, who are now on the ground, it is likely that several other famous flyers will appear before the end of the meet.

GILBERT JONES A SUICIDE.

Former Owner of New York Times Sends Bullet Through Brain.

New York, November 2.—Gilbert E. Jones, former owner of the New York Times, and a son of George Jones, founder of the Times, committed suicide by snooting himself in the right temple in his offices in the old Times building, on Park Row today. Jones was secretary of the Park Building Company, the owners of the building formerly occupied by the Times.

Mr. Jones, who was 66 years old, is survived by a widow and two sons—George Jones II., a lawyer, and Gilbert Jones, a student in Harvard University. George Jones II reached the offices of the building company soon after the news of his father's act reached him. He said Mr. Jones had not been ill and had suffered no bereavement and that he knew of no reason why his father should have taken his life.

GARMENT MAKERS INJURED IN RIOTS

Police Charged on Strikers With Drawn Revolvers to Quell Trouble.

BLOODY SCENES MARK STRIKE

Building Occupied by Clothing Manufacturers Stormed by Strikers—Many Arrests During Day—Meetings Held Last Night.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—Grim spectres of the days of the Hay Market riot haunted Chicago streets for a brief time today when Police Inspector S. K. Healy and sixty policemen with drawn revolvers charged several thousand striking garment workers, who were rioting on the westside.

One policeman was stabbed, fifteen rioters were seriously injured and 25 strikers and sympathizers, were arrested during this brisk fight which threatened to get beyond police control.

The outbreak occurred at the plant of A. Lott & Company. Before the police arrived the strikers broke all the windows in the building occupied by the clothing manufacturers, drove strike breakers out, and carried a large numebr of sewing machines into the streets and destroyed them.

The strikers and their sympathizers put up a desperate fight for a time. Many were knocked down with the clubbed revolvers of the police and not a few were trampled on. Bleeding heads and faces were numerous.

Men and women were hurling stones and bricks through the windows of the factory when Inspector Healy and his squad of policemen arrived. He experienced difficulty in getting together the disorganized policemen, who had borne the brunt of the early fighting. When he had done so, however, the policemen charged through the mob knocking down all in their way. Many of the rioters fled when they saw policemen draw revolvers. Others remained firm and hurled clubs and stones at the officers. A number of women were arrested, but most of these were released after they had been taken to a police station.

As a result of today's development in the strike situation Chief of Police Steward tonight ordered a conference of his inspectors and issued a special set of emergency orders to officers in the various police districts where riots have occurred.

Strikers tonight held a dozen largely attended meetings. The active in urging the strikers to further disorder. Meantime various club women, interested in the cause of the girl garment workers, were urging their followers from violence.

FRENCH CABINET RESIGNS.

Premier Briand Requested to Retain His Office.

Paris, Nov. 2.—Following the unexpected resignation of the Briand cabinet today, President Fallieres requested Premier Briand to retain his office and form a new ministry. This task is proving a somewhat difficult one. In making up the new combination the Premier has been in consultation with former leaders, such as Leon Bourgeois, former premier and ex-minister of foreign affairs, M. Clemenceau, whom M. Briand succeeded in office, and Jean Sarrien ex-premier and ex-minister of justice. It is probable that no announcement of the personnel of the cabinet will be made until tomorrow.

In addition to arranging a cabinet committed to the settlement of pressing social problems, M. Briand must offer a ministry satisfactory to the changing republican majority, where a number of radicals—the followers of Ex-Premier Combs—are not attracted by what they term Briand's tendencies to extra conservatism.

The Temps insists upon the imperativeness of a broad programme of social and republican defense against anarchy with legal means for the settlement of labor conflicts without resorting to a strike.

TROUBLE IN HONDURAS.

General Valladares Openly Defies President Davilla—Rebellion.

Washington, Nov. 2.—Back on his own island and safely entrenched behind his battery of machine guns, General Jose Valladares, the eccentric commandant of Amapala, the Pacific port of Honduras, has openly defied President Davila to put him out of his job. The United States gunboat Princeton, which has been at Amapala about three weeks to protect American interests, has been ordered to remain there until relieved.

Both the State and Navy Departments have dispatches from Honduras telling of Valladares belligerency.

Tegucigalpa, Honduras, Nov. 2.—General Jose Valladares, who has returned to Amapala, where he was at one time governor and commandant of the port, has come out in open rebellion against the government which deposed him. A state of siege has been proclaimed and it is expected that forces will be sent immediately against Valladares.

THE FINAL CALL TO CONTESTANTS

Coupons and Nominating Blanks Withdrawn and All Votes Must Be Cast—Final Details.

The little five-vote coupon which has been of so much interest, and has been gathered throughout North and South Carolina, will no longer appear. The nominating blank has also been withdrawn. In fact, the contestants after a hard preparation for a long race, are now about to get on the home stretch.

Closed at Noon.

After Friday at noon the nominations will be closed and there will be absolutely no one allowed to enter after that time, and if any contestant or prospective contestant has been working in view of entering the contest, they have but a few hours in which to announce themselves.

At Seven Sharp.

Next Monday night at seven o'clock the contest closes. Under no circumstances will any ballot or subscription be allowed to be put in the box after the ringing of the alarm clock, which will be in the office of the contest department.

Up to Last Minute.

Subscriptions will be taken at the contest office up to the last minute of the contest, that is, up to seven o'clock next Monday night. All subscriptions and votes must be turned in by that time, for nothing can be counted that is not here at the beginning of the final counting.

No Five-Vote Coupons.

All of the five-vote coupons that have been clipped from the Daily Star must be in contest office Friday noon, so that they can be published in Sunday morning's paper. The judges at the final counting will be instructed not to count any of the daily ballots that might be in the box.

Send Reserves.

If any of the young women have sent in subscriptions and received in exchange for them a slip calling for votes, remember that that is not a receipt for the votes, but the actual votes themselves, and this slip must be sent in or in order to have the votes counted at the final counting by the judges.

Would Like Representatives.

It is not necessary that each and every contestant be represented, but it is much more satisfactory if representatives would be named by each of the interested contestants so that they may superintend matters and see just what system has been used to insure fairness to all.

On Monday call at the contest office and get a big envelope, or use your own envelope, placing a list of subscriptions, the money, and contestant's name, and drop that envelope in the sealed ballot box at the contest office, and the judges will open that box after the contest has closed and the final counting is about to begin.

Watch these columns daily for final instructions. The vote schedule will be just the same at the finish as when the contest first started, which was:

Four months' subscription to the Morning Star, $2.00, 600 votes; six months' subscription to The Morning Star, $3.00, 1,200 votes; one year's subscription to the Morning Star, $.600, 3,000 votes; a five-year subscription to one address, 35,000 votes; a ten-year subscription to one address, 100,000 votes.

The above schedule will prevail until the final closing of the contest. Of course, the five, four, three and two-year subscriptions can not be clubbed in any manner. In other words, the paper must go to but one person. During the special offers, subscriptions from four months up were allowed to be clubed together and a bonus certificate issued, but on the above, the original schedule this of course, will not be allowed.

Prizes on Display.

Yesterday the Contest Manager was furnished through the Murchison National Bank, of this city, with $600 in pure gold coin in $2.50, $5 and $10 pieces, covering the grand prize of $500 for all the districts and the two prizes of $50 each in the two districts for the boys. This money has been placed on display with the watches, diamonds and rings in Honnet's windows on North Front street, where they may be inspected by the contestants and their friends. "Gentle Lad" the Shetland pony, direct from the Sunnyside Stock Farm, Monmouth, Ill., is being cared for at the City Livery Company and with the cart and harness, which will arrive in a few days, will be presented to the winner next Tuesday morning. The handsome Ludwig piano is on display in the show window of I. Shrier, at northeast corner of Front and Princess streets, and the Turkish rockers, one for each district, are on display in the windows of the Wilmington Furniture Co., near Second and Princess streets. The two free trips to Cuba with all expenses cannot be displayed but the Passenger Department of the Atlantic Coast Line will be glad to give any information as to the delightful travel to the island over that famous route. The delights of Cuba in Winter do not need expatiating upon to all who have read of this quaint and picturesque country.

FLETCHERISM.

The habit of chewing one's food until it becomes almost liquefied and swallowed involuntarily, and eating certain foods at certain times of the day is called "Fletcherism" after a man named Fletcher, who advocates this method as a remedy for indigestion and stomach troubles. While one may get from this system the maximum amount of strength from the minimum amount of food, it is a question as to what extent this principle of living can be applied to the human race as a whole. It is an old and true saying, "What is one man's meat is another man's poison."

There is one thing sure, however, much less distress and much more assimilation of the body building elements contained in every day food would be experienced by people with poor or impaired digestion if they would only believe what we tell them about Vinol.

There is no mystery about it, or misrepresentation. Vinol simply contains the necessary elements needed to re-establish a normal condition of the digestive system. There is no need of going into the scientific reasons why—it simply does it, that is all.

Thousands of genuine testimonials from reliable people prove this claim, and to further support the fact and prove our faith in what we say, we unhesitatingly declare that any one who will buy a bottle of Vinol for stomach disorder and malassimilation, will have their money returned without question if they are not satisfied that it has done them good. Booker Washington's Visit—Destructive Fire—Football—Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Durham, N. C., Nov. 1.—Booker T. Washington, the noted negro educator, spoke in St. Joseph's A. M. E. church here last night. Two hours before time for the meeting to begin, some 3,000 negroes crowded and jammed the approaches of the building in order to make sure of a seat, or even standing room inside when the doors were opened. Dr. Washington was the guest of the Negro Men's Business League of Durham while here, and the reception given him was enough to turn the head of men of greater fame, and whose worth is far more greatly recognized. No more can it be said that the negro race does not appreciate its leaders. The way in which the negro people of Durham have responded to the suggestion of those having in hand the entertainment of the distinguished guest, clearly show that the masses of the race are easily reached and influenced for their own uplift and elevation.

Fire yesterday morning destroyed the saw mill and two engines belonging to the Durham Lumber Company in East Durham. The blaze was discovered about 5 o'clock, and the excellent fire companies of the city quickly responded. They had to run too far as the fire was beyond their reach and they could do nothing. The engine house was consumed, the two engines wrecked, and the sawmill outfit utterly destroyed. The loss is probably $6,000 with practically no insurance.

Two football games of much interest will be played here very soon. South Carolina and North Carolina will contest for honors here on Nov. 19th. Each team is a fast one and the game is being looked forward to with much interest. Wake Forest and the team from the battleship Franklin will play here on the 12th. Besides the game, the parade of the sailors will be an added attraction. Excursions will be run here for this game.

The people of the city seem to realize the importance attached to the coming of so many prominent men here on the occasion of the inauguration of Dr. Few, as president of Trinity College, November 9th. The mayor has issued a call to the people of the city, and especially the business men, to unite in showing the prominent visitors what the city really is. Special trains will carry the large number of visitors to and from the city, and the whole city will no doubt be well decorated for the occasion. November 9th will be a day long to be remembered in Durham.

BILL NYE DAY IN PUBLIC SCHOOL

Bill Nye Memorial Committee Passes Resolutions for Recognition.

(Special to Charlotte Observer.)

Salisbury, Nov. 1.—At a meeting of the Bill Nye Memorial Committee of the North Carolina Press Association held here tonight, Mr. J. P. Cook, of Concord, editor of The Uplift, was elected treasurer of the committee to succeed Editor John M. Julian, deceased, of The Salisbury Post. To the committee was added Col. Al Fairbrother, editor of Everything, of Greensboro.

The full committee composed of Messrs. J. H. Caine, of the Asheville Citizen; J. P. Cook, of The Uplift, of Concord; R. W. Vincent, of The Observer; R. M. Phillips, of the Greensboro Daily News, and Col. A. H. Boyden, of Salisbury, attended the meeting today.

A resolution was adopted that the committee would ask the State Superintendent of Public Instruction to set apart a day in the public schools of North Carolina to be known as "Bill Nye Day." At this time it is intended to request each student in the schools of the State to contribute a penny or more toward the fund that the committee has in charge; namely to erect a building in connection with the Stonewall Jackson Manual Training School at Concord to be known as the "Bill Nye Memorial Cottage." It may be seen readily that this will help greatly toward accomplishing the end toward which the committee is striving.

Reports from various sections of the State which were given to the committee at the meeting tonight give every assurance of a perfect co-operation in the movement and the erection of the Bill Nye Memorial Cottage is an assured fact.

Letters of encouragement in the cause have been rceived from parties both in and out of the State in the matter and the committee is very much encouraged at the outlook.

At tonight's meeting the secretary was empowered to employ a corresponding secretary on a salary, who will devote much time to the affairs of the committee and every attention will be given to the cause.

The press outside of North Carolina, as well as the State Press Association, has become interested in the cause.

TRINITY COLLEGE.

Historical Society Hears Interesting Paper—Y. M. C. A. Work.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Trinity College, Durham, N. C., Nov. 2.—The Historical Society met in its regular monthly meeting Monday night in the history room in the Duke building. An unusually large number of men were present, and the meeting was very interesting from beginning to end. The principal feature of the meeting was the reading of a paper by Prof. J. A. Morgan, of the Economics Department, on "State Aid to Internal Improvements in North Carolina." The paper is one of the best that has been written on the subject, and was a revelation of what the State has done for itself along this line. Quite a large number of documents and newspapers were presented to the Society and a number of new men admitted.

The Trinity delegation to the Bible Study Conference of the Y. M. C. A. held at the A. & M. College at Raleigh has returned to the campus. All phases of Bible Study in which a college man should be interested, and ways of overcoming difficulties were discussed. The boys report a fine meeting, and say that all colleges and high schools in the State were represented.

TWENTY AEROS NEEDED.

For United States Government Service Says General Allen.

Washington, Nov. 1.—Twenty aeroplanes, at least, are needed for the United States government service, says General James Allen, chief signal officer of the army, in his annual report made public tonight.

"These aeroplanes should be on regular practice at different points in the country throughout the year," continues General Allen. "They should be present in camps of instruction for regular troops and organized militia. Twenty aeroplanes would provide but two for each camp of infantry. To operate this number would require at least 20 specially trained officers as pilots. In addition to this each machine must carry at least one observer, which experience has shown, will require much training and actual practice before the usefulness of the heavier than air machine is attained."

General Allen deprecates the fact that although the United States was the first Nation officially to recognize the aeroplane for military purposes, this government has not kept pace with the world in the development of military aeronatutics.

Summed up, the aero equipment of the United States army consists of one small practice dirigible balloon, one Wright aeroplane and three small captive balloons, says the general.

The signal corps has only one lieutenant and nine enlisted men on duty in connection with aeronautics and the chief signal officer says, until the corps is increased by Congressional legislation it will be impossible to furnish more officers and men for the absolutely necessary training demanded in airmanship.

General Allen combats the oft-repeated assertion that the United States, owing to its isolated position, is not likely to become involved in war, and that therefore the most economical procedure in aerial navigation is to wait until other nations have determined upon the types best suited to military purposes, thus shifting the expense of experiment and development to other nations.

In view of the difficulties which ships bearing the United States flag have been communicating with foreign ports, General Allen recommends that the matter of this country becoming a party of the international committee for the control of wireless telegraphy again be brought before the Senate. He also recommends appropriate legislative action looking to definite Federal control of wireless telegraphy and telephony.

AFFAIRS IN COLUMBUS.

Mr. Butler Seriously Ill—White Man Killed by Train—Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, N. C., Nov. 2.—Hon. J. G. Butler, formerly member of the Legislature from this county, has been dangerously ill, but is some better.——Mr. Baldwin, of Chadbourn, has leased the Guffin Hotel at Evergreen.——Mrs. Arry Wilson, a respected old lady, aged 85 years, died near Cerro Gordo.

On Monday night, Mr. Jim Parker, a white man from Crusoe Island, was killed by the train near Mark Pine, in the lower section of our county. The Whiteville Lumber Company had been a temporary railroad to get out some timber near Old Dock, and Mr. Parker was in the employ of the company. He was on the logging train and jumped off just before it stopped. He tripped and his body was ground to pieces by the wheels. The deceased leaves a wife and five children in reduced circumstances.

Mr. Coy Long, near Old Dock, died Saturday of typhoid fever. He leaves a wife and several children. Mr. Long belongs to one of the leading families of our county and was a highly respected farmer.

The government engineers are still at work taking levels around Old Dock for the drainage canal. It is intended to carry the water from the Waccamaw into Little River, in Brunswick county.

Many of the country schools have suspended for a week or so that the children may assist in gathering crops. The pea crop is almost a total failure and farmers say it will take close picking to save enough for seed.

SUPREME COURT RULING.

Man's Constitutional Rights in Relation to Action of Jurors.

Washington, Oct. 31.—A man's constitutional rights are not necessarily violated by a jury when it is trying him on a charge of murder being allowed to separate and to read newspapers during the trial. It was so held today by the Supreme Court of the United States. The court also held simiarly in regard to the refusal of a judge to send a jury out of the courtroom during arguments on the admission of evidence.

Furthermore, the court laid down the rule that the act of requiring the accused to put on a coat, alleged to have been worn when the crime charged was committed, did not amount to "requiring the prisoner to testify against himself."

These points were made in the decision of the court in refusing to interfere with the sentence of life imprisonment imposed by the Federal Circuit Court, of Western Washington, upon James H. Holt, on a charge of having murdered Henry E. Johnson, in Fort Worden barracks, Washington.

In announcing the opinion of the court, Justice Holmes said that the trial judge had gone to the limit in the exercise of his discretion during the trial, but that he had committed no reversible error.

The retail merchants' association of Asheville is agitating the commission form of government. Through the efforts of that association Mayor Gibbes, of Columbia, will speak in Asheville in the near future. Columbia has been operating under the commission form but a short while, but the good results are said to be already apparent. The commission form has been a success wherever tried and is growing in favor.—Raleigh Times.

MR. WILKINSON STRICKEN.

Scotland Citizen in Extremis—Booker Washington—Laurinburg News.

Special Star Correspondence.)

Lauringubrg, N. C., Nov. 1.—Yesterday about noon, Mr. D. D. Wilkinson, of this place, suffered a severe attack of heart trouble. While in the field helping in some work he suddenly became sick and while on his way to his home across the field he fell unconscious. He was carried into the house and physicians were called. While he has not yet regained consciousness his relatives and friends are hopeful.

The colored people of Laurinburg are making preparations for the entertainment of Booker T. Washington who will come to Laurinburg Friday, about 1 o'clock and arrangements have been made for him to speak at the baseball park. If the weather should be inclement he will speak in the opera house.

Laurinburg will be greatly benefitted by the compromise which has been made in the case of Dunlap vs. McCallum, which was a controversy over the title of the land known as the McCallum property which lies just east of Main street. It means much to Laurinburg in that under the terms of the compromise the property must be placed on the market. This will likely be done at an early date.

Mrs. W. K. Beacham passed away at her home on Railroad street at noon today after a long illness. She has been a great sufferer with stomach trouble and has undergone several operations with the hope of recovery. During the past month her condition has been such that the end was expected at any time. Her funeral will be conducted from the home and the burial will be in the Laurinburg cemetery.

In reading store ads most people are looking for definite information about some particular article—hence merchants should quote prices always.

Miss Maggie Rivenbark, 105 Dock St., Wilmington, N. C., says: "I found great benefit through the use of Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at R. R. Bellamy's Drug Store. I suffered from constant, dull pains in my back and some days I could hardly get about. My kidneys were weak and I was caused much annoyance. I tried several remedies but nothing gave me relief until Doan's Kidney Pills were used. They proved to be just what I required and in a short time cured me so completely that my trouble has never returned."

you do not have to work close to the stove, which is usually far from the window. You can work where you wish, and be warm. You can work on dull winter days in the full light near the window, without being chilled to the bone.

The Perfection Oil Heater quickly gives heat, and with one filling of the font burns steadily for nine hours, without smoke or smell. An indicator always shows the amount of oil in the font. The filler-cap, put in like a cork in a bottle, is attached by a chain. This heater has a cool handle and a damper top.

The Perfection Oil Heater has an automatic-locking flame spreader, which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back, so the wick can be quickly cleaned. The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged and can be unscrewed in an instant for rewicking. The Perfection Oil Heater is finished in japan or nickel, is strong, durable, well-made, built for service, and yet light and ornamental.

Refereeism may well vaunt itself that it is holier than Butlerism.

It has been laid all over Mary Ann He has gone to the ropes groggy with his own perfidy. Come back? Nay, Pauline! Never, Roxie.

If you see a lady coming in the door turn kind of sideways, stoop down and then enter bobbing her head from right to left, it doesn't mean that it is a new way of making a bow. She is trying to get in without striking her hat against the transom or against the door facing.

Morehead's mesalliance with Butler is proof positive that he is not capable of managing the destinies of his party organization much less asaying the role of presiding genius of the political destinies of the Great State of North Carolina. We shudder to think that the glorious commonwealth of Zeb Vance should be dangled over the brink of a political abyss by even a well-meaning tyro in a game in which Marion Butler is the pastmaster of machiavellianism.

The Nation's taxing measure for the support of the Government and levying tribute upon American taxpayers for the benefit of the plutocratic beneficiaries of the Republican tariff, was directed in its course through the people's Congress by Aldrich, the multimillionaire, who had a share in the tribute to be dished out to protection cormorants. The man who will not vote against a party responsible for Aldrichism cannot hope to be classed with the worm that will some times turn.

Says the Charlotte Observer of yesterday: "The State Democratic executive committee has levied heavily on the services of Mr. Frank R. McNinch of the local bar, one of the ablest political debaters in the State. He has just been called upon to take the stump for the remainder of the campaign and leaves today to begin his new duty. McNinch's value as a campaign speaker is not underestimated by the executive committee." Mr McNinch is a brother of the Hon. S. S. McNinch, Republican candidate for Congress in the 8th District, and he has been putting in some strong licks against brother Sam.

Besides being red-headed every day, roasting Marion Butler and basting him with "pokeberry juice," the Raleigh News and Observer is to pull off a Curtiss aeroplane meet at the State Capitol November 16th and 17th. The News and Observer can take on a good many things at the same time and successfully carry them out without falling down on a single one of them. It is hardly necessary to predict that Editor Daniels will make a big success of the fine attraction which he is going to give Raleigh and all the surrounding country when he gives them the opportunity of witnessing the marvellous development of aerial navigation.

The Treasury statement issued at Washington Tuesday shows a deficit of $3,293,882 for October and a deficit of more than $21,000,000 for the fiscal year. This is a Treasury statement and it contradicts Republican spellbinders who are sloshing around claiming that the Payne-Aldrich tariff law has produced a surplus. The Washington dispatch yesterday, showing that the Government's expenses so far for the fiscal year are $21,000,000 more than the Government's receipts, says "the situation is not considered unusual." Of course not. A deficit is quite the usual thing under the hysterical and extravagant financial management of the Republican party.

ARGUMENTS TO DECEIVE.

Successive Republican National administrations have gotten the affairs of the people of this country into such a "devil of a fix" that the Republicans are in desperate straits in their efforts to explain away the responsibility of their party for the burdens from which there is wide-spread suffering in this country. One of the most serious burdens on the Republican party in this campaign has been to explain away the cause for the high cost of living. They had to admit in the face of unusually high prices on all sides that necessarily the cost of living has outgrown what people earn to meet their burdensome expenses.

However, to admit that the Republican party is responsible for it would have doomed the Republican party, so Republican spell-binders in the great cities where distress is greatest and suffering is intense, had to prepare arguments to defend the Republican party from the charge that it has been responsible for the ruinous cost of living throughout the entire country. The National campaign book of the Republican party is full of those sort of arguments and it includes the report of a majority of the Congressional committee which attempts to clear the skirts of the G. O. P. for bringing hardships upon the people.

Nevertheless, the Republican party is in such desperate straits that their spellbinders are contradicting each other flatly on all sides. In fact, the spellbinders make one kind of argument for one part of the country and then make another kind of argument, contradicting themselves, in another part of the country. They have engaged in a campaign of deliberate deception. They have flopped from one argument to another in their vain attempt to shirk responsibility to an outraged people. For instance, in the cotton country, where farmers are getting good prices for cotton because of two short crops, and generally fair prices for other products, Vice President Sherman, in his North Carolina speeches, had the effrontery to attempt to convince the farmers that the tariff is responsible for their prosperity.

Mr. Sherman failed to explain to them, however, that if the tariff is responsible for good prices for cotton today, why it is that under the Dingly tariff, which they contend is higher than the present tariff, cotton sold during the McKinley administration at the lowest price in the history of cotton production. He also failed to explain why the price of cotton under high protective tariffs has ranged all the way from five to fourteen cents a pound. He also has failed to explain why we have 14 cents cotton now under the tariff and why it wasn't 14 cents under the higher tariff when McKinley was President. Any attempt on his part to have made any such explanation would have led him to the point where he would have butted out his brains in an effort to annihilate the established law of supply and demand. However, any sort of argument will go with a Republican, whether he occupies a high and honorable position in the Republic or not, just so it is calculated to deceive American voters. Cannot the Republican party furnish this country with men in distinguished positions sincere and honest enough to prevent them from playing the demagogue for partisan purposes?

While 'Sunny Jim" has been trying to fool the farmers of North Carolina, Colonel Roosevelt is now engaged in attempting to deceive the voters of New York where the burden of the high cost of living is serious. In his efforts to do that he is making just the contrary argument to that of Vice President Sherman. In Buffalo, N. Y., on Tuesday, Col. Roosevelt asserted that "the Republican party is not responsible for the high cost of living," and in order to clear the G. O. P. of its responsibility, he went on to explain that "the cause of high prices in the mean are international." He was not sincere enough to tell the people that prices ordinarily are regulated by supply and demand throughout the world, and that in addition to prices so regulated such prices can be added to by levying a tariff so manufacturers can get the benefit of prices as high as they want to make them.

That is the full purpose for which in order to increase prices on protected commodities, how could they it guaranteed the industries of this country profit on their investments. If they did not levy a protective tariff in order to increase prices on protective commodities, how could they guarantee manufacturers a profit? No sophistry and no false and deceptive arguments can get around the plain fact that protection for certain products and commodities inevitably increase the prices of such products and commodities, especially if the manufacturers combine under the tariff system and fix prices without the fear of any competition whatsoever.

The fact is, after telling the people at Buffalo that "the Republican party is not responsible for the high cost of living" Col. Roosevelt went right on and put his foot in it by declaring that "in some instances trusts have forced up prices." He told the truth in that instance and contradicted his own argument, for the trusts have been enabled to do that under Republican protective tariffs. Then we catch the Colonel inviting the people to vote for Republican party to secure relief, whereas, the cause of their burden is the tariff policy and extravagance of the Republican administrations, to a very great extent. No spellbinder can successfully deny that and expect to be believed by a reasonable man.

No spellbinder can deny that placing high taxes on people will not increase their burdens. It would seem that the day is past when the Republican party can hope to convince sane people that they can get rich by letting the Republican party tax them to the limit for the benefit of the favored few at the expense of the masses. All the spellbinders on the face of the earth cannot explain away the record of the Republican party for catering to the greed of tariff cormorants and being in league with special interests which dominate the party which levies tribute on the people for their benefit. The mutual side of this close corporation of the interests with the Republican party is demonstrated by the enormous campaign subscriptions furnished by the protected interests to keep the Republican party in power.

The farmers of this country should not be fooled by the specious plea of Republican campaigners that the Republican party is their friend, for it levies protection for manufacturers and trusts while making the most niggardly kind of appropriation for the Agricultural Department in its efforts to promote the cause of agriculture, upon which the real prosperity of this country depends. The farmers are under no obligations to the Republican party, which is so one-sided in its favoritism.

In Brazil the government entered into a plan with the coffee producers by which they could get good prices for their coffee, but the Great Republican administration at Washington prosecuted the cotton bulls, when, in a comparatively small way and by no means upon a certain plan, they caused the price of cotton to advance. The Republican administration, which is such a great thing to the farmers in election times (nit), used all the power of the Republic's law department to put a stop to 14 cents cotton on the plea that it was "in restraint of trade" and in violation of the anti-trust law which is construed by the powers at Washington in favor of the trusts and its special interests.

Cotton farmers probably haven't forgotten the government's suit against the cotton bulls, for it was begun not so many months ago and is still to be prosecuted. Sunny Jim Sherman probably didn't know that the farmers knew this.

Motley tied his balloon to a kite. The flash of the skyrocket on the zenith of earth's stary dome is no more evanescent than Morehead's upshoot into political space.

The result of the election in New York next Tuesday has almost overshadowed the prospects for Harmon in Ohio, and Woodrow Wilson in New Jersey. The reason is that there are two issues—Republicanism and the kind of Rooseveltism that may make or mar the Rough Rider's chances for the Presidency in 1912. If Roosevelt wins, Taft won't know how he stands for the renomination till he hears from Teddy. Quite likely his chances would be better if Teddy and his whole mess were defeated next Tuesday. The general belief is that John A Dix, the Democratic nominee will sweep the State and put Teddy out of business for 1912 and perhaps at the same time settle President Taft's hash for re-election if he should be re-nominated in 1912. The Hon. E. Prentiss Bailey, of Utica, who is the oldest political prognosticator in the State, predicts that Dix's plurality will be almost equal to that of Grover Cleveland in 1882 when he ran for Governor and defeated Folger, Republican candidate for Governor, by a plurality of 192,000. We shall see next Tuesday.

The Hon. Virgil S. Lusk, for 40 years the leader of the Republican party in western North Carolina, a venerable, respected and honored citizen of Asheville, is out in another "open letter" to the Republicans in which he announces that he will not support the Republican nominees for the Senate and the House because they stand upon a platform of trickery and fraud fashioned by "Morehead, Settle, Butler, Reynolds and a score or so of local heelers." He denounces the "local self-government" plank as fraudulent and false in pretense and calls for a rebuke of the men who have misled his party for "their own aggrandizement by reopening the bar rooms of the State and especially in Buncombe county." Col. Lusk is a strong man and has a wide influence and following. Men of his class will not stand for trickery and deception and it is time for all politicians in the parties to recognize that party integrity is as sacred as personal integrity to men with honest convictions. The Democratic party offers the only hope to that class of men in North Carolina.

SIMMONS AS A CAMPAIGNER.

The great Democratic speech of Senator F. M. Simmons in Wilmington, on Tuesday night, made a profound impression upon all who heard it. North Carolina's distinguished Senior Senator was laboring under the disadvantage of great fatigue from constant campaigning, and while he did not attmept to amplify his presentation of the Democratic cause, as he has it at his fingers' tips, his necessarily contracted speech nevertheless was powerful and convincing. Democracy in North Carolina needs no defense. It is not on trial for what it has done nor failed to do. It stands on its record and appeals to the people of North Carolina for what it has done. Senator Simmons presents that appeal strongly and the position he takes is irrefutable. The Republican party is the only party that is on the defensive in North Carolina and it has no grounds of defense. Senator Simmons proves that in his terrific indictment of North Carolina Republicanism.

Senator Simmons, while worn out with constant campaigning from one end of the State to the other, made a speech which had a fine effect in Wilmington. He is an attractive speaker, without any attempt at flights of oratory, but he speaks in a logical and illuminating way and puts the stamp of ability upon his campaign speeches. He is a man of extensive political resources, and Marion Butler's head is full of nonsense and vain imaginings if he has thought for a moment that he could have measured arms in a joint debate with Simmons. Butler might fume and rant on the stump, but his vaporings would be as nothing compared to the damaging indictment of Simmons against Republicanism and Butlerism. The Democratic champion has no fear of a spieling contest with the bond bungler, but he refused to enter into a joint discussion with him because Butler's character and record did not entitle him to recognition on the hustings.

The Star yesterday contained a running sketch of Senator Simmons' splendid speech in Wilmington, but it by no means attempted to give such details as would fully demonstrate the strength of the Senator's speech. His address inspired confidence in the Democrats here and he made a strong point when he contrasted public opinion at home and abroad concerning the differentiating characters of the two parties. Everybody knows when the Democratic party is in power North Carolina has good government. It makes progress, and goes forward in a wonderful development. Everybody, Democrats and Republicans, in the North and in the South, know full well from the record that when the Republican party is in power there is incmopetency, bad government and most disastrous results.

North Carolina voters know more about it than anybody else, and they are not insane enough to take their State Government out of the hands of the party that is true and tried and place it in the hands of a party which has neither the character, nor the ability, nor the record that would appeal to a wise citizenship.

If New York goes Republican, the result will worry Taft because it will take him a long time to find out what he is going to get out of it.

Because a New York man bought a $600,000 estate people are asking what wrong doing he is guilty of to have enabled him to have all that money.

Butler is pilloried. He squirms and promises a defense of himself at Raleigh tomorrow. He waits eight days after his terrible exposure before he can make a pretense of defense. The man who is not prepared instantly to resent assault upon his reputation and honor is in a hard row of stumps. A moment's hesitancy lends color to the suspicion that he is nosing desperately for a loophole by which to escape from a hopeless situation.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Town boosters are of two sorts, those who throw their hats in the air and shout "Hooray for the big town," and those who join the organized agencies of civic development, hang their hats behind the door and actively join in the work.—Winston-Salem Sentinel.

An admirable chance to improve New York's Congressional delegation by retiring misrepresentative Republicans is afforded by the candidacy of Messrs. Littleton, Redfield, Wilson, Maher and Butler in Long Island districts, and Messrs. George, Levy and Patten in New York county. There are partisan majorities, in some cases heavy, against these men, but they should be elected. They will represent New York. Their opponents would not.—New York World.

Marion Butler complains bitterly because the Democrats waited until near the close of the campaign before confronting him with that New York Evening Post advertisement relative to the bond matter and yet he waits until November 4, just four days before election, to make his reply and to engage in his much-advertised public denunciation of Senator Simmons. Such is consistency. If Mr. Butler has an adequate defense why does he wait until the eve of the election almost to make it public? And if he thinks Mr. Simmons deserves a scathing denunciation why does he refrain from denouncing him until the last minute? Butler is in a desperate situation politically and no one realizes that better than he does.—Winston-Salem Sentinel.

The Scientific American recounts a trolley trip said to be the longest on record—1,986 miles, from New York to Milwoukee. Except for the use of a boat on the Hudson, from Tarrytown to Hudson, and the steam railroad from Fonda to Little Falls, the journey was made entirely on the electric cars. It was cheap enough, costing only $33.50, and clean, free from cinders and dust, and the chief difficulty was the transportation of baggage. The traveler was particularly impressed with the advantage of the electric lines in affording an opportunity to see the towns on the route. With the growth of the cities and the development of hydro-electric power, the extension of the interurban trolley roads will be a most notable phase of American expansion during the next twenty years.—Columbia Record.

A unique Democratic Club was organized in this city last night. It has more for its purpose than merely vote-getting on the eve of the election and a death afterwards, the higher purpose being the permanent organization of the young manhood of the city and their preparation for more intelligent exercise of the franchise. Such an organization is worthy of the active membership of all young Democrats who have the perpetuity of the Democratic principles at heart. They have questions to solve, a standard of citizenship to set, and individual civic duties to perform. They are not a lot of office-seekers and office-holders, for the organization to be filled with such men, however good and honest they may be, would blight the purposes for which it was started. Another name would be more appropriate than the one chosen, for a Democratic club in every day speech is considered short lived and with only the success of an oncoming election in mind This is not a club primarily to change votes as we understand it, but to study the affairs of government for a more intelligent assumption of the duties of citizenship. Such a club is worthy, indeed.—Charlotte Chronicle.

BAD BLOOD
OFTEN INHERITED

Bad blood does not always come as the result of careless living, or indiscretions; it is a condition frequently inherited. Normal, healthy blood contains millions of tiny red corpuscles, which are the vitalizing and nourishing element of the circulation, their office being to provide every portion of the system with its necessary strength and nutriment. In weak, impure blood these corpuscles are lacking in numbers, and therefore the blood is not able to supply the proper amount of nourishment to the body. Bad blood manifests itself in many ways. With some it takes the form of skin diseases and eruptions, others become bilious and malarious, with sallow complexions, torpid liver, etc. Bad blood produces Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula and like troubles. Nothing is equal to S. S. S. as a remedy for bad blood; it is the greatest of all blood purifiers, possessing not only the qualities to cleanse and purify the blood, but composed of roots, herbs and barks that tone up every part of the system, and assist in the creation of blood nutriment. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Skin Diseases, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Blood Poison and all other blood disorders. S. S. S. makes good blood, and good blood makes good health. Book on the blood free to all.

SEABOARD MAKES PURCHASE

Acquires Valuable Wharf Property Adjoining Its Present Extensive Terminals in This City—The Consideration.

For a consideration said to be upwards of $100,000, it became known yesterday that the Seaboard Air Line Railway Company had acquired by purcahse from the Waccamaw Lumber Co., of Bolton, N. C., the valuable wharf property embracing what is known as the site of the Chadbourn Lumber Company's mill in the northern part of the city, adjoining the present extensive terminals of the company recently completed in this city at a cost of something like $300,000.

The property acquired has a frontage on deep water of something like 700 feet and embraces practically two blocks of city property in one of the most eligibly situated terminal districts in the city. While no one in the city last nght could speak for publication of the transaction, it is known that the Seaboard has acquired the property and the purchase is regarded as very significant in view of the enlargement and development of the Seaboard properties at this port. The property was purchased a year or two ago from the Chadbourn Lumber Co., by the Waccamaw people until their mill was removed to Bolton in order to get nearer to the large body of Green Swamp timber purchased in Brunswick and Columbus counties. It is said that there have been a number of offers for the property, but the Seaboard finally concluded the negotiations which places that road in a very advantageous position with the development of a greater port at Wilmington, in which the management of that company evidently have great faith.

Members of the family who attended the funeral and returned home yesterday on the steamer City of Fayetteville were: Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Love, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Love, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Love, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hubbard, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Fleming, of Boston, Ga., and Mr. Walter Love. Mrs. Love was in her 62nd year and her death occurred after an illness of some time. A large concourse of friends gathered at the old homeplace to pay their last tribute of respect to her memory.

Owing to an unfortunate transposition of lines in the original notice of the death of Mrs. Love, it was not stated that she was the widow of the late Major T. D. Love, so well known and so universally esteemed in this section of the State, and who was for many years a prominent business man of Wilmington. Mrs. Love was a devoted member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church and was much loved by all in the circle of her acquaintance.

THE CHADBOURN DRAINAGE.

Contract Awarded and Work Will Commence Very Soon—Pioneer.

Mr. D. L. Struthers, superintendent of construction for the Chadbourn Drainage District, one of the pioneer movements of its kind in Eastern North Carolina, is in the city on a business trip and yesterday talked most interestingly of the work about to be undertaken. The contract for the draniage, embracing the removal of something like 140,719 cubic yards of earth was awarded on Tuesday to the Brett Engineering & Contracting Company, which has handled the big projects at Mattamuskeet Lake and the Toisnot drainage. Mr. Struthers says that the work will likely begin within 30 days and will be pushed to completion as rapidly as possible. This drainage is one of the most important in North Carolina and will demonstrate to this section of the State just what can be accomplished by the application of scientific knowledge to large areas of the lowlands of the State.

THE SEWERAGE CO.'S SIDE

Ably Presented by Engineer Geo. T. Hammond at Informal Conference of City Officials Yesterday—No Action.

That the Wilmington Sewerage Company's plant, or a large portion of it, is adequate not only for the present needs of the city, but for a number of years to come and that it can be maintained for considerably less money than a new system with larger pipes is the position taken by Mr. George T. Hammond, an eminent engineer of Buffalo, N. Y., who appeared before an informal meeting of the city officials in the Mayor's office yesterday afternoon, at the request of the sewerage company, the officers of which desire that the city consider further the matter of purchasing the existing system to be used as the basis for the enlarged municipal plant contemplated and for which the people voted bonds some three years ago.

The remarks of Mr. Hammond were in line with the postscript to the main report of Messrs. Lucas, Rapalje and Humphreys, engineers, upon whose recommendation the city declined some time ago to buy the system, the postscript to the report being as follows: "Suggestion: In fairness to the capital invested in the present plant we suggest that the Water and Sewerage Commission, if possible, incorporate in the new system such parts of the existing system as the engineers which they place in charge of the sewerage work may find free from defects."

Messrs. Humphreys and Rapalje were present at the meeting yesterday and stated that they were employed to make an investigation and report as to the advisability of purchasing the system in its entirety and not to determine what parts might be used in connection with the plant to be installed by the city, and while standing by their original report they agreed with Engineer Hammond that the western district, that portion from Seventh street west to the river, is adequate for the needs of the city for some years to come. From this it can be seen that the representatives of the city and the sewerage company are not so far apart as to their estimate of the value of the present sewerage system and it is said to be not at all improbable that some agreement will be reached by the city and the sewerage company by which the plant, or a portion of it, will be used in the long promised municipal sewerage system. The Aldermen may rescind their action in declining to buy the existing plant and accede to the original proposition of the sewerage company that the city and the sewerage company each select an out-of-the-State sewerage engineer, the two engineers to select a third and the three to report as to the cash value of the system to be used in connection with the enlarged municipal plant. The matter will be taken up at the regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen next Monday night.

The meeting yesterday afternoon was informal and was held at the request of Mr. Wm. E. Worth, president of the Wilmington Sewerage Company, who desired that the city officials hear from the company's engineer as to his estimate of the value of the existing system, taking the position that it would be unfair to his company for the city to go ahead and put in an entirely new system, destroying his plant, when a big portion of his company's system could be used advantageously in the municipal system. There were present at the meeting Mayor Walter G. MacRae, Mr. Wm. E. Worth, Aldermen Hinton, Willard and Rehder; Chairman M. J. Heyer, Messrs. Tiencken and Cooper, members of the Board of Audit and Finance, and Capt. Thos. D. Meares, clerk of that board; Engineers Humphreys and Rapalje; Capt. Louis Belden, chairman of the Commissioners of Streets; Mr. Wm. E. Merritt, secretary and treasurer of the sewerage company; Engineer Geo. T. Hammond, and Mr. J. J. DeKinder, also an engineer of note. Mr. Worth called attention to his original proposition to the Board of Aldermen, which he said, had never been answered, spoke of the report of the special engineers employed by the city, and stated that he had requested a hearing so that his engineers could tell the city officials something of the company's estimate of the value of its system. Mr. DeKinder was then introduced and he spoke briefly, presenting Mr. Hammond, who was engaged by the sewerage company some months ago to make a thorough investigation of the plant and make recommendations of any changes necessary to make it in every way an adequate system, copies of which report were printed some time ago and had been read by a number of those present, both in the papers and in pamphlet form.

In summing up, Mr. Hammond has the following in his report:

"My opinion of the system, briefly stated, based upon examination of the sewers and disposal plant, and observation of their ordinary operation, is that while it is not in all respects faultless, it is well adapted in design to its situation and renders admirable service. That it is economical in maintenance cost, and would be still more so if more largely patronized. That the method of sewage disposal directly into Cape Fear river is satisfactory for the present, and will be so at least until the population exceeps 200,000 persons, when the flow can be intercepted by means of a shore-front sewer and discharged further down stream. That the disposal plant will be satisfactory for the present, if my recommendations relating to it are carried out, and that it can be made satisfactory for any probable requirements in the future. That the 6-inch size of pipes used in lengths less than 2,500 feet on the grades available is satisfactory, and its use is sustained by authority of some of our most eminent civil engineers. That the sewers are in all places large enough in the Western Division, but that the outlet sewer in the eastern division is not of sufficient size to provide for future extension, and as it requires rebuilding it should be made of a larger size, as recommended. Finally, that if the recommendations made in this report are carried out, the system will be in all respects a proper and sanitary system, well adapted to serve the city of Wilmington."

Mr. Hammond said that he had been engaged by the company to make an investigation of the system and recommend anything that was needed to make it an adequate system and that he had made a careful study of the entire system. He had read the report of Messrs. Lucas, Rapalje and Humphreys, which he considered splendid from their standpoint, especially in the matter of grades, but that it was evident that they had not had much experience in sewer engineering. However, he had no criticisms whatever to offer as to the report of city engineers, but proceeded to present the sewerage company's side of the matter. Mr. Hammond said that improvements at the disposal plant had been made in accordance with his recommendations and he considered the plant adequate and a great success. This was in reply to a question from Alderman Rehder. Returning to his report, Mr. Hammond said the company engaged him to advise how to make the best of what they had and that in his recommendations he did not spare anything he considered defective and pointed out the remedy. He then discussed the size of pipes now most generally used in the construction of sewers. He said that a large pipe allows for more sand and costs more to pump it out. The six-inch pipe is being put down in most cities, though he would not have any one think that the larger pipes were not still being used in some places. The carrying capacity of the eight-inch pipe, he said, is almost double that of the six-inch pipe, which is a good reason advanced by engineers for using the larger pipe, but they leave out the cost of maintenance if the sewer is where sand will settle in it, as it is in this city. The engineer found no place in the system here where the pipe was flowing half full, the flow was not sufficient to keep the sewer cleaned. Some manholes were found that were not properly built up and the engineer, at the time of his investigation, pointed these out to Mr. Merritt and thought the defects had been remedied. He said that in the report of the local engineers an important questions had been raised regarding the system in that they were unable to see a light from one manhole to another, and remarked that he took it that the engineers were not experts on sewers or they would not have made that criticism. He said that he did not understand that the report intended to condemn the system for this reason, but that it might be taken that this criticism is of importance, and therefore he would say that it is the usual experience of engineers in examining a sewerage system that has been installed for a number of years, that the alignment is not found in such sewers that a light can be seen through them, but must judge of their efficiency and value as sewers mainly by their carrying capacity, scouring effects of current, sanitary condition, etc. You want a manhole when the sewer is obstructed, not to see through when it is running, he said, and though the alignment is not perfect you run a rod through the sewer to remove any obstruction.

Mr. Tiencken asked Mr. Hammond if this city had no sewerage system and if he were called in and asked for his advice would he advise the putting down of a larger pipe than is now in use, and Mr. Hammond replied that he most certainly would not, but would use the same size of pipes and do his best to preserve the grades. Mr. Hammond spoke of the small amount of money expended in putting down the present system, saying that it was shocking cheap system in dollars and cents, and declared that to put down a system having improvements over the present one would require an outlay of considerably more money. Except those lines mentioned in his report he could not find a single sewer not capable of taking care of 200,000 population. At this juncture Mr. Hammond concluded his statement and was heartily thanked by Mayor MacRae who said that he presented the matter very clearly.

In reply to a question Mr. Worth said that all the recommendations of Mr. Hammond had been carried out with the exception of the re-laying of the sewers on the streets mentioned in the report. Mr. Heyer was asked by Mayor MacRae if he could add anything that had been said after seeing the sewers used in European countries. Mr. Heyer said that he did not know anything of the system here except what was contained in the report of the local engineers, but that he thought that there were some portions of it that could be used. He did not have any knowledge of but two blocks of sewerage and said that it had never given any trouble. Mr. Humphreys was called upon by Mr. Heyer to make a statement relative to the plant.

Mr. Humphreys said that he did not know where it was up to him to say anything or not, but that Messrs. Lucas, Rapalje and himself were engaged to make an investigation of the plant and report as to whether it would be advisable to buy the system or install a new one. After going over the entire system thoroughly they came to the conclusion that it should not be purchased by the city and so recommended. He said, however, that he would like to see something done immediately toward settling the matter so the street work could proceed. Mr. Tiencken said that those in the meeting would like to have light on the question and asked Mr. Humphreys if he could explain why he recommended that the present system be not used and an eight-inch pipe be put down. Mr. Humphreys said better grades should be secured, that the pipes were simply not working. Mr. Hammonds asked how far the flush tank would carry and Mr. Humphreys said that some carried to the river. Mr. Hammond said that as a rule the flush could carry only about 500 or 600 feet; that this was the opinion of the majority of the profession. He said that the flush was intended to clean only the upper portion and then depend on flotation, and to be cleaned at the end, when necessary by hand or hose, and Mr. Humphreys said that he did not konw this. Mr. Hammond said further that here in Wilmington there are such a few houses connected with the sewer that flotation does not come until way down near the end and that they must depend, more or less, on the flush. If there were a larger number of connections flotation would be easier. The greatest trouble, he said, was with the manholes, for when the flush struck them it would be lost. He considered it an important thing to have sewer pipes halp full so as not to waste money in water. Mr. Hammond expressed his regrets that he and Mr. Humphreys did not get together before either report was made and swap experiences, etc. In this connection, he said that he valued the report of the local engineers very highly, the only fault he had to find was that they were giving the matter a wrong interpretation.

Mr. Rapalje was then called upon and in the beginning he stated that it should be borne in mind that the local engineers were engaged to determine only the advisability of purchasing the entire system or install a new system. The engineers were surprised at some of the grades found, some being very flat indeed, and without any flow at all, this being one of the reasons why the system was condemned. The engineers did not feel that the city should buy the entire plant and so advised against the purchase. At the time of the report the disposal plant was in such condition that it was not included in the report. Mr. Heyer asked Mr. Rapalje that after hearing the company's engineer would he consider the western section of the sewer adequate for the city. Mr. Rapalje said that the eastern section would have to be reconstructed under any condition but that, as his report showed, the western section would be adequate.

Mr. Tiencken asked Mr. Hammond another hypothetical question. "If you had put in the present system for the city and payment for the same had been refused, could you prove by experts that the system is perfectly sanitary?" asked Mr. Tiencken. "Yes," replied Mr. Hammond, "I would have no difficulty in proving it. This is a remarkably cheap system; the best I have ever seen for the money, and I have not seen anything insanitary about it."

In reply to a question from Mr. Heyer Mr. Merritt said that four-fifths of the sewerage system is west of Seventh street, the eastern boundady line. Mr. Worth said that there were about 1,000 connections in Wilmington and that there are about 4,000 houses.

Mr. Humphreys insisted that some definite action be taken at the meeting, declaring that to postpone action might mean another delay of years. Mr. Worth adhered to his original proposition, as set forth above, and said that the company did not care about having the money now; that it would take bonds or notes, just so the interest was kept up. The meeting then adjourned, it being understood that the matter would come up for consideration at the aldermanic meeting Monday night.

DATE FOR BIG PRODUCTION IS RAPIDLY APPROACHING.

As the time for the coming production of Mr. Harry Foote's "Spielgartenfest" draws nearer, Wilmingtonians will not soon forget the great artistic and financial success of his former presentation of the wonderful "Slumberland" show. This play broke all records in Wilmington both in the reservation of seats for its performances, and with "standing room only" signs displayed two days before its presentation here. No one has forgotten the crowd that congregated in front of DeRosset's book store the morning the seat sale opened and the four policemen who tried to keep the multitude in order, and few can forget the smashing of the plate glass window by this anxious and eager crowd in their rush for coupon tickets. This and many other occurrences demonstrated what Mr. Foote can really accomplish with amateur talent in the professional line. His system of instructing singing and dancing together with stage management places him in a position to give a very interesting and entertaining production, and his new creation, the "Spielgartenfest," which will be presented here for four performances, is his masterpiece of wonderful conception.

MISS LUCY WALSH BRIDE OF MR. GEORGE SAVILLE BROWNE.

A wedding of much interest to a wide circle of friends and withal one of the prettiest of the season was solemnized at Grace Methodist church at half after five o'clock yesterday afternoon, when Miss Lucy Pate Walsh, the charming and attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Walsh, became the bride of Mr. George Saville Browne, a well known and popular young business man of this city, Rev. Thomas A. Smoot, pastor of the church, performing the beautiful and impressive ceremony.

The church, which was beautifully and artistically decorated in pink and green, was filled with an admiring throng of friends and relatives of the couple. The interior of the church presented a most beautiful scene, the color scheme being most effectively carried out in the decorations. To the strains of the wedding march, the bridal party entered the church. The bride was handsomely attired in white satin messaline with crystal trimmings and veil and she carried a lovely bouquet of Bride's roses. The maid of honor, Miss Maye Green Walsh, sister of the bride, was becomingly gowned in green crepe dechine, and the dame of honor, Mrs. D. C. Marshall, of Richmond, Va., wore white and pink. The bridesmaids, Misses Mallie Houston, Custys Meredith, Blanche Penny and Carolyn Walsh, wore pink crepe. The little ribbon bearers were Misses Marjorie Bonitz, Mary Pickett and Douglass Kelly and Clare Huggins. Mr. Clarence Browne, of Richmond, Va., brother of the groom, was best man, and the groomsmen were: Mr. Grover Lee, of Petersburg, Va., and Messrs. Will Andrews, Robert A. King and F. S. Echols.

Mr. and Mrs. Browne left on the 7 o'clock train for a bridal tour of ten days or two weeks to points of interest in the north and upon their return to Wilmington will be at home to their friends on North Sixth street. Mr. Browne holds a position in the purchasing agent's office of the Atlantic Coast Line and is a clever and genial young business man, who is very popular with a wide circle of friends. His bride is a most attractive young lady and her friends are limited only by the range of acquaintance.

A delighful reception was given Tuesday evening at the hospitable home of the bride's parents, No. 715 Princess street, complimentary to the bridal party and was a thoroughly enjoyable social event.

Among the out-of-town guests here for the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Walsh, of Sanford, Fla.; Mr. Clarence Browne, of Richmond, Va.; Mr. Lee, of Petersburg, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Marshall of Richmond, Va., and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Crosby, of Richmond, Va.

LOCAL DOTS.

—As usual, Messrs. Hopkins & Davis, the well known market dealers, are at the head of the procession with their annual calendar, which for 1911 is a very artistic design as well as being very serviceable. The Star acknowledges with thanks the remembrance of the firm in the distribution yesterday.

—Atlantic Coast Line passenger train No. 50 from the south due here at 12:55 A. M., is several hours late this morning on account of a disabled engine, four miles below Fair Bluff. It was stated at the dispatcher's office at 1:40 this morning that the train had not reached Chadbourn and would probably not arrive in Wilmington before 5 A. M.

All subscribers should get their seats reserved then, so as to secure a good location. The subscription list is not anything like as large as it should be and it is hoped that other names will be added today and tomorrow. Theatrical

Frederic Thompson's great play, "Polly of the Circus," was presented at the Academy of Music to a large and appreciative audience last night This attraction appeared here last season and was equally as well received by the large audience last night as it was on its first appearance here. The production is regarded by local theatre-goers as one of the best of the kind seen here this season.

At the Crystal.

The regular mid-week change of programme goes on at the Crystal Palace today and promises to be equally as interesting and entertaining as the programme the first three days of the week. The Texas Quartette continues to win great applause from the large audiences.

At the Bijou Today.

"The Vagaries of Love," a dramatic comedy full of quite amusing incidents, and "The Three of Them," the latter being a story of a married couple, being childless, bring sunshine and contentment into their hearts and home by adopting a little orphan boy, who furnishes the missing link in the completion of the household, are the pictures that will be shown at the Bijou theatre today.

At Joyland.

By request the management will, in connection with the regular programme at Joyland today, repeat the big Imp. picture, "Dupe", the thrilling drama of the Civil War and an heroic young Southerner. This picture will not fail to please Southern people. The other two subjects are "Avenged" and "The Plumber," the latter a perfect scream and full of humor. The programme changes daily.

BOOKER WASHINGTON.

Arrived Last Night in Beaufort Capital and Spoke There.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, N. C., Nov. 2.—Booker T. Washington the noted president of Tuskegee Institute and a party of prominent colored equcators arrived in the city in a special car over the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad at 7 o'clock this evening. They were met at the depot by a large crowd of colored people and the committee of welcome, composed of some of Washington's most prominent colored people. Dr. Washington addressed a large gathering of people, both white and colored in Brown's opera house at 8:30 o'clock. He was gracefully introduced by the Rev. Nathaniel Harding, of the Episcopal Church, and spoke for about one hour. His speech was a fine one and full of good advice for both colored and white people and every day philosophy without a discordant note or word out of tune with either race's characteristics. Dr. Washington has made many friends by his sensible speech in this city. The party will leave on the morning train tomorrow.

BARNEY OLDFIELD LOST.

Cannot Participate in Auto Races—Suit for Damages.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 2.—For over three hours today Barney Oldfield participated in the most irksome contest of his automobile career, a legal race for the right to enter tomorrow's meet here and he lost.

Attorneys for the American Automobile Association held that Oldfield had entered this legal contest with the wrong make of car and that instead of an injunction to force the local racing association to allow to race in defiance of his disqualification by the American Automobile Association, he should have used a mandamus to secure reinstatement.

Oldfield's attorneys, however, fixed up a consolation event for him in the shape of a suit for $20,000 damages against the American Automobile Association and one for $5,000 against the Atlanta Automobile Association.

The hearing was before Judge Geo. L. Bell, in the Fulton county Superior Court. Oldfield's attorneys claimed that he had been disqualified by the American Automobile Association without a hearing. They argued that his race with Jack Johnson, which caused the disqualification, was justifiable because it would tend to discourage Johnson from future competition with white sportsmen. The court ruled that he had no jurisdiction.

FOOTBALL INJURY.

Yale Varsity Man Borne Off the Field After Scrimmage.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 2.—In a scrimmage between the Yale Varsity and the freshmen football teams on Yale field today, John Reed Kilpatrick, right end on the 'Varsity and an all-American end, was struck on the abdomen and side and removed from the field in an automobile. The coaches tonight were unable to give the extent of his injuries or how long he would be out of the game.

Shall Women Vote?

If they did, millions would vote Dr. King's New Life Pills the true remedy for women. For banishing dull, fagged feelings, backache or headache, constipation, dispelling colds, imparting appetite and toning up the system, they're unequalled. Easy, safe, sure. 25c at Robert R. Bellamy's.

The "bargain hunter" is no longer the woman who merely haunts the stores. She is the woman who watches the ads and goes to the stores strictly on business.

Children Are Blessed With a Sweet Tooth

So are you—and you should encourage it, for the system demands sugar more than meats. Of the three nutritive elements which support life—sugar, protein and fat—sugar is the most important. You can't eat too much of it in its correct form.

It is the native sugar in good ribbon cane syrup that gives it its wonderful food value—the whole substance is wholesome sugar.

The "sweetness" of many syrups sold to the public is a little sugar or saccharine matter added to an insipid by-product "filler"—tasteless until the sugar is added. Such syrup, by itself, or made into cake and candy, has about as much food value as shavings.

ALABAMA SYRUP

is the finest example of a succulent Georgia ribbon cane syrup, made by the old plantation "open kettle" process, put into cans direct from the evaporator while hot—thus insuring the permanency of its natural sweet flavor and inimitable taste. It's the good old-fashioned taste you remember in your grandmother's pantry—the most welcome food children can have.

Any good grocer has it.

CLARK AFTER 'EM.

Postmasters in Missouri Being Investigated For "Pernicious Activity."

Washington, Nov. 2.—Charged with pernicious political activity, upward of half a dozen postmasters at small places in Missouri, are under investigation by the postoffice Department on telegraphic complaints made by Representative Champ Clark, of Missouri, Democratic leader of the House. He charged that the postmasters, all at relatively small towns, were working against his re-election. Postmaster General Hitchcock immediately ordered the chief postoffice inspector to have the matter inquired into and the inspector in charge in Missouri is taking steps to ascertain the facts.

AFTER A DISTILLER.

Forfeited $1,000 Bond and Took to Woods in Carteret.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Newbern, N. C., Nov. 2.—Although a number of officers scoured the woods in the vicinity of Newport today they failed to find any trace of Frank Saunders, the illicit distiller, who failed to make his appearance at yesterday's session of Federal court now in session in this city and thereby forfeited his bond of $1,000, which was guaranteed by Mr. Kit Jones, of Carteret county. It is understood that a posse will scour the surrounding territory in that vicinity tomorrow morning and endeavor to apprehend the fugitive.

DECLINE IN COTTON MARKET

Rumors of Bearish Crop Estimates From South Affected the Market —Spot Closed Unchanged— Considerable Selling.

New York, Nov. 2.—Today's cotton market showed continued nervousness and irregularity, an advance being followed by a decline on rumors of bearish crop estimates by various Southern authorities. While some of these rumors were subsequently denied ,the close was barely steady at a net decline of 4 to 8 points.

The market opened steady at an advance of 3 to 7 points on steady cables and a renewal of yesterday's late buying movement which was stopped to reflect expectations of a bullish census report next week, owing to the rumors that early returns to the National Ginner's Association pointed to a ginning of only 7,100,000 bales to November 1 .There was considerable selling around the initial figures and some little irregularity in consequence, but with Southern bulls giving support, prices gradually worked up with early sellers covering on the advance, until the market showed a net gain of about 5 to 10 points. At this level offerings became heavier owing to reports that later returns to the National Ginners' Association suggested ginning to November 1st of 7,300,000 bales, and rumors that two well known Southern crop experts' would issue estimates this week calling for approximately a crop of 13,000,000. Prices broke in consequence, but while one Southern estimate was actually published a yield of 12,685,000 bales, it was stated with reference to the two rumors that one of the experts would publish no estimate until Saturday, and that the other would not be ready to estimate the yield or express any opinion for perhaps two weeks. These denials were followed by a rally which carried the market from a net loss of about 5 to 11 points up to nearly the closing figures of yesterday on covering and renewed bull support, but sentiment was evidently much unsettled and prices lost part of the improvement in the late trading under realizing or local selling. Southern spot markets officially reported early were generally unchanged to 1-16c. higher.

Receipts at the ports today 55,000 bales against 58,955 last week and 57,573 last year. For the week 400,000 bales against 391,188 last week, and 402,640 last year. Today's receipts in New Orleans 11,013 bales against 19,250 last year, and at Houston 10,764 bales against 2,576 last year.

Spot cotton closed quiet and unchanged; middling uplands 14.55; middling gulf 14.80; sales 247.

Futures opened steady and closed barely steady.

FAISON AND BUTLER.

Still at It Hammer and Tongs in Third Congressional District.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Currie, N. C., Nov. 2.—In the Faison-Butler joint canvass today, Dr. Faison led off in a powerful, masterful, brainy speech which was unanswerable and crushing. He taunted Butler with his promise which honorably bound him to leave the race if "Mary Ann" was the father of the fundulent bond deal which Butler could not deny and would not deny but grew hot and dealt in personalities as had himself. Dr. Faison was forceful and crushing and it was a great day for Democracy in Pender and Butler and his friends hung their heads as Dr. Faison plied them with his arguments. Dr. Faison was master of the situation.

STOCK MARKET REMAINS DULL

Occasion for Distrust Found in Erratic Fluctuations in Railroad Stocks. Suspension of Operations. The Conditions.

New York, Nov. 2.—The stock market remained dull to the point of stagnation today, reflecting the suspension of operations on a large scale by the powerful financial interests which have fostered the upward movement through the month of October. With the advent of dullness and neglect there have emerged into view various features of the market position which arouse distrust and tend to caution in the conduct of operations.

An example of the occasion for distrust is found in the erratic fluctuations in Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis Railroad stock. The sale yesterday of a single 100 share lot of this stock at 61 following sales the previous day at 71 and an immediate rebound to 70 gave rise to widespread comment and criticism. This resulted in a request to the stock exchange authorities to record the bid and asked quotations for the stock from time to time today. From these it was shown that after selling at 69 and 70 there was no better bid at one time than 61 for the stock, although none was offered at that time at less than 68 1-2. Previous to this week the stock had not sold under 70 during the present year, that price having been touched in the decline in July.

The day's developments in the money market pointed to relaxation in the immediate future with the passing of the effect of the November settlements. A decline in foreign exchange rates here and a rise in the New York exchange in Chicago both pointed to lightened pressure on New York money supplies from outside sources.

Some strength was shown by the copper industrials, which were moved by the positive predictions of early improvement in the trade rather than by actual developments. The price of copper metal rose in London again. The statement made by Chairman Gary of the United States Steel Corporation that early orders from the railroads were looked for had little effect on that stock, which was less prominent in the dealings than of late.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales par value $1,677,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales for the day 308,400 shares.

DESTRUCTION OF THE MAINE.

Col. Brady Declares Spanish Electrician Was Responsible.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 2.—That Jose Zavaldo, a Spanish electrician, working in Morro Castle, and probably a fanatic, was responsible for the destruction of the battleship Maine, was the statement made tonight by Col. Jasper E. Brady, in correcting a report of a speech made by him last night.

Col. Brady says he was one of a committee of four men who investigated the explosion and reported their findings to President McKinley. "Of course, I did not see this man turn on the switch which set free the powerful mines that caused the disaster," said the colonel, "but the evidence in the case pointed directly to his guilt. Three other army officers, whose names I do not care to give, and myself reported to the President that in our belief Zavaldo was responsible. He was later executed on the command of General Blanco. None, however, was ever able to learn for what reason."

Col. Brady in an address last night at St. George's Episcopal church, discussed the Maine disaster and attributed it to a submarine mine explosion. His statement brought forth denials from Washington, among other things being that no military board had been appointed to investigate the case.

Col. Brady explains that the board never convened to make its reports but reported individually to the President.

Col. Brady was quoted as saying in his address last night that Cubans were responsible for the disaster. He denied today that he made such a statement.

FLY FROM SEA TO LAND.

Member of Glenn H. Curtiss Staff From Ship to Manhattan.

New York, November 2.—It was announced tonight that J. A. D. McCurdy, of the Glenn H. Curtiss staff, will attempt to fly by aeroplane from the deck of a vessel 50 miles at sea to a point on Manhattan island, next Saturday. The Kaiserin Auguste Victoria, of the Hamburg American Line, sailing Saturday will carry McCurdy and his Curtiss biplane. The test, the first of its kind, will be observed by a party of Navy and Army officers and a flotilla of torpedo boats will patrol the course.

The aero will be launched from a platform 100 feet in length built on the forward deck of the ship under the personal direction of Mr. Curtiss, who is confident of the success of the experiment.

The test is to demonstrate the feasibility of equipping the new liner, Europa, now under construction, with a regular aeroplane service for transferring mail at sea.

Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 2—Dr. Leigh Buckner, of Roanoke, Va., was today appointed as their judge of the Southern field trials, the meet to be held at Latohatchie, Ala., near Montgomery, on December 19. The other judges are Lee Moody and Nat Nesbett, of Birmingham. Dr. Buckner is one of the judges of the American field futurity.

Nasnville, Tenn., Nov. 2.—Robert W Medlen, aged 45, a traveling salesman of Philadelphia, hanged himself with a towel in a local hotel today. He left a sealed note to his wife who is in Philadelphia. No cause is known for the suicide.

"Marion Butler can now recognize the propriety and prescience which dictated the refusal of reputable Democrats to enter into a joint wrangle with him. Just think of chewing the political and personal rag with a man who denies things vehemently, while the truth with his own signature attached to it was dangling over his head, liable at any moment to be flaunted in his face with a great and triumphant flaunt, going to prove that a spieler all wool and a yard wide had been up against a man of straw."—Wilmington Star. But he is still throwing the grand bluff at direct proof. If the Republican party hasn't a case of heart disease on Tuesday next we miss our guess.—Durham Sun.

the man who, publicly branding another as responsible for the assassin's bullet which made him President, has within a few years thereafter, because of what he deems to be his political necessity of the hour, struck hands and political alliance with the man whom he so branded.

Let his friends take whichever horn of the dilemma it suits their effort and his vanity to choose; my opponent's nominator either shamefully and shamelessly belied a fellow citizen when he had Mr. Root make the Utica speech of 1906, or he now deserves the condemnation of self-respecting men in making an alliance with one but for whom, if we believe his own charge, President McKinley might have lived to serve out his elected term of office and his successor might never have been President of the United States.

"I asked this man last week for the apology which one man owes another for even involuntary misrepresentations. His answer has been to repeat, and I now charge, wilfully and knowingly to repeat, in as many places and to as many people as his voice would carry, the statements which I now publicly brand as falsehoods.

"I withdraw my request for an apology and I say with all the emphasis at my command, that a man who has been President of the United States, who would do the thing which he has done during this campaign merits only the pity of decent men.

"I am neither a prophet nor the son of a prophet, but I venture the prediction that after November 8th, 1910, my opponent's nominator will have stamped upon his innermost consciousness the knowledge that the people of this State are able and willing to manage and control their own public affairs without either interference or dictation from any man who would try to erect a 'new nationalism' upon the ruins of the institutions founded by our forefathers in days of stress and sacrifice."

Mayor Gaynor's letter was addressed to Herman Ridder, president of the Independent Business Men's League. It follows in part:

"Nine-tenths of the voters of each party are honest and true. They want honest and intelligent government. When their party fails to give it, they know that the time has arrived when their duty and also their intellectual self-respect, requires them to vote with the opposite party. To keep government up to the mark, one party should not be kept in power continually. It were fortunate for us if our political parties in State and Nation were more evenly divided, so that one party could be put out and the other brought in readily.

"While the long-standing corruption was being reviewed from day to day in Albany last Winter, many intelligent Republicans made up their minds that it was time to let the other party come into power for a while for the common weal, and they are of that mind still. And happily, Mr. Dix is a man of such integrity and fitness, and, let me add, freedom from objectionable influences, that there is no reason for any fair and intelligent man to cast a mere party vote against him.

"The Democratic convention did a service to honest politics by refusing the alliance offered to it by political scamps who have no wish to aid in good government, but only their vain and selfish ambition in view, and for that alone the ticket which it squarely and fairly nominated should have the healthy good will of every one.

"The assertion that Mr. Dix was selected and his nomination forced by a political leader hereabouts I know of my own knowledge to be false. It is easy to stand up a man of straw and then thump it over, and that is what some distinguished Republican or new nationalism campaigners seem to be principally engaged in; but they will learn on election night that the voters of the State know a man of straw or a scare crow when they see one, at least as quick as a crow does.

"Very truly yours,
"W. J. GAYNOR."

How About Woman's Suffrage?

Mr. Dix had barely launched on his address when a shrill feminine voice from the gallery cried: "Mr. Dix, how about woman's suffrage?"

The speaker stood in silence while a chorus of voices from every part of the hall bade the woman be quiet and sit down. Chairman Ridder came forward and said:

"Of course we desire to treat every lady with respect, but she should earn that distinction. At every meeting, no matter who the candidate, a woman appears and asks this same question."

"Mr. Chairman," interrupted the woman, "I merely asked Mr. Dix a question."

At this point two policemen appeared beside the woman and ordered her to keep quiet or leave the hall.

"I merely asked Mr. Dix a question," persisted the woman.

"Put her out—keep still," yelled a hundred voices.

Two policemen pried the woman's grasp from the railing and led her struggling out of the hall.

PURE CRYSTAL ICE.

Our process of ice making is sanitary in every particular and has stood the test of time. Only pure artesian water used, from a well one hundred and fifty feet deep, to produce live steam, afterwards condensed and frozen in clean moulds of uniform size, producing ice at a temperature suitable for all domestic and refrigerating purposes. Such ice is economical on account of no tendency to "flake" or break up when used and thus great loss is prevented.

Ice must melt to refrigerate and ours lasts longer in melting than any made.
